Income Tax Hike O.K.—But 'No' for Transaction Tax

Gov. Bumpers' tax message to the General Assembly Thursday was one I approved in general. He is asking for a total tax increase of 26 million dollars—of which 15 million is to be obtained by an increase in the state income tax. That is something your editor has advocated in recent years.

Such advocacy meant a reversal of previous Star policy—but as any reform of Arkansas' dishonest property assessment system becomes increasingly doubtful the only alternative is to increase the state income tax. This would catch underassessed property owners because they would be taxed on income—tax evasion on which would be dangerous because of the availability to the state of a citizen's federal tax return.

Therefore we support the governor's income tax hike proposal.

But we object to his tampering with the sales tax. From newspaper accounts he plans to move against sales-use tax exemption of public utilities. I haven't seen his actual bill on this, but if the result is to unload the tax on the utilities' customers then I am opposed to it. Here you would be pyramiding the sales tax, the citizen paying not only his own sales tax but also absorbing the utility's tax.

Frankly the governor seems to be moving into the field of making services as well as tangible goods subject to sales tax. He mentions taxing repair work, which essentially means a tax on labor.

And he likes the idea of converting the sales tax into a transaction tax—the effect of which would conceivably destroy the sales tax. Proof of the governor's intention is shown when he specifically asked that the sales tax be levied against the sale of a used car.

You pay sales tax when buying a new car. But if you are forced to pay sales tax on a used car which has already borne one tax then you are paying a transaction tax, not a sales tax.

This is a vicious pyramiding of taxes—and if such is attempted by the legislature you can bet your editor will do his best to alert all the state's citizens and seek a popular vote to override the General Assembly's action. Twice before I have done this on sales tax legislation (1955 and 1957) and while I had no success at the polls this certainly wouldn't deter me from making a third attempt to secure tax justice.

If there has to be a tax rise put it on the income tax, which is levied according to a citizen's ability to pay—and leave the sales tax alone, which is a flat tax and harmful to those least able to bear taxation.

Vietnamese Make Forays Inside Laos

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers attacked two anti-aircraft missile sites in North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced today. Meanwhile, small South Vietnamese reconnaissance units were making forays into southern Laos and other Saigon troops fought a hard battle in Cambodia.

The attack on the missile sites was the 10th "protective reaction" attack in North Vietnam this year to counter the threat of anti-aircraft fire against American planes bombing the Ho Chi Minh trail through southern Laos.

The U.S. Command said an F105 fighter-bomber fired two Shrike missiles Thursday at surface-to-air missile — SAM — sites five miles inside North Vietnam when enemy radar locked on a flight of B52s bombing on the Laotian side of the border.

The pilots said they saw no

Little Change in Nation's Jobless Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped slightly in January from December but in both months hit heights not reached since the 1960-61 recession, the Labor Department reported today.

The January rate, the department said, was 6 per cent of the civilian labor force. The rate was the same as given out for December, but a statistical revision disclosed that joblessness in that month actually hit 6.2 per cent despite the return to work of workers displaced by the General Motors strike.

Today's report showed 5.4 million unemployed in January, a rise of about 700,000 from December. But, because unemployment always increases significantly in January, the seasonal adjustment of the numbers brings the rate down by the equivalent of 110,000 workers from the December level.

The rate showed disappointing sluggishness in the economic recovery, however, and failed to allay fears that unemployment would move higher before President Nixon's prediction comes true—that in 1971 it "will finally come under control and begin to recede."

Total employment rose 400,000 in January, after seasonal adjustment, and stood at a figure of 77,238,000, about 75,000 less than a year ago.

AEA's Rozzell Disappointed With Tax Plan Population Explosion Crowds Man, He Really Becomes More Isolated

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Now is the time for every good man to come to the aid of himself by building his own survival kit.

There is no longer safety in mere numbers. The more the population explosion crowds man, the more it isolates him. The more dependent we are on the machinery of civilization, the more helpless we become when strikes or breakdowns shut down that machinery.

In frontier days if a man needed help he could usually get it from his neighbors. But if a man were attacked by a saber-toothed tiger today, it would do him little good to summon his neighbors. They would come only to watch the show and criticize him if she struck the tiger a low blow.

Man must help himself now. And what he needs to get along in these unreal times is a survivor's kit, one that will give him some chance of dealing with the pressures that blindly conspire

Income Tax Increase Key Item in Bumpers' $26 Million Package

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The income tax proposal unveiled Thursday by Gov. Dale Bumpers will be easily the most difficult aspect of his tax package to get through the legislature.

The requirement for General Assembly approval, support of three-fourths of the members in each chamber, is in itself a substantial barrier to passage.

The sales tax, by comparison, can be increased with support of only a bare majority.

News Embargo Lifted, Many Still in Dark

By MICHAEL J. REILLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Vietnam war's toughest news blackout on events at the Laotian border has ended, but confusion remains over what course events there will take.

"I'm still confused," commented Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield after U.S. newsmen were given permission Thursday to write about a massive new allied sweep in northwestern South Vietnam.

The operation, Mansfield said, "seems to indicate a penetration into the panhandle of Laos, I assume by South Vietnamese troops, I assume for the purpose of cutting the Ho Chi Minh trail. It is only a matter of a few miles from there to the Thai border and who knows what may develop?"

The Nixon administration provided little information about the operation that had not been reported by foreign newsmen since the embargo on U.S. correspondents was imposed last Friday.

Those reports indicated South Vietnamese forces, aided by U.S. airpower, would strike in Laos to cut off Communist supply lines.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said massing U.S. and South Vietnamese forces near the Laotian border was only "the first phase of the operation."

He declined to elaborate. "I'm not going to project what future troop movements on the part of" the South Vietnamese will be.

Ziegler and other administration spokesmen repeated the one unqualified statement they had made since the operation began: No U.S. soldier has crossed the border into Laos and none will.

Beyond that statement, however, there was little to abate a speech to a joint legislative session that he was aiming not simply for additional revenue, but also for tax equity, especially in the income tax field.

The result of his proposal would add to the income tax bill of most taxpayers, but the additions to smaller taxable incomes would be significantly less than the additions to more substantial taxable incomes.

Present income tax rates are 1 per cent of the first $3,000, 2 per cent of the next $3,000, 3 per cent of the next $5,000, 4 per cent of the next $14,000 and 5 per cent of all taxable income over $25,000.

Bumpers' scale is the same as the present one on the first $3,000, but the rate on all other incomes would go up.

The governor's proposal provides for these rates: 2½ per cent on the second $3,000 of taxable income, 3½ per cent of the next $3,000, 4½ per cent of the next $6,000, 6 per cent of the next $10,000, 7 per cent of the next $15,000 and 9 per cent of all taxable income over $40,000.

In Bumpers' speech, and in a chart distributed to legislators, the administration underscored the fact that the Arkansas taxpayer would not bear the full weight of such increases.

The impact would be lessened because every dollar of additional state income tax would amount to another dollar the taxpayer could subtract, while itemizing deductions, from the income that would be subject to the federal income tax.

The administration's chart said that a family of four with

House Votes Measure to Pay Expenses of Members All the Time

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House approved 70-17 Thursday a bill by Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock to give legislators an expense allowance between General Assembly sessions.

There was little debate.

Rep. Charles Stewart of Fayetteville said in debate, however, that the bill seemed designed to get around the limit the Constitution sets on salary for legislators.

The limit is $2,400 per biennium, or $1,200 per year.

Brandon's bill would provide each lawmaker with up to $150 per month for expenses in the 1971-72 fiscal year, $200 per month in fiscal 72-73 and $250 per month in fiscal 73-74.

In addition to salary, legislators receive $1,200 during each regular legislative session. House members may also apply for an expense allowance of up to $140 per week during the current session while senators are given $1,800 each in contingency money for expenses in the current session.

The Senate approved 31-0 a bill to permit the state Pollution Control Commission to issue revenue bonds to get funds that would be used to make grants to help political subdivisions pay for water pollution control projects.

Federal grants for such projects now may equal 30 per cent of the estimated cost, but the federal share can increase to 55 per cent when a state will also grant funds equal to 25 per cent of the cost.

The bill would require that no state grant be issued until a federal grant had been approved for the project. The state grants would equal 25 per cent of the estimated cost. The political subdivision receiving the grant would first have to establish fees that would finance the bonds.

Seeks Space Point Devoid of Gravity

By BILL STOCKTON

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — While his crewmates explore the moon, Apollo 14 command ship pilot Stuart A. Roosa is trying to photograph a point in space believed to be devoid of gravity.

Using high-speed film in a special camera, Roosa is attempting to catch what astronomers call the Moulton Point—an area almost one million miles from earth where the gravitational forces of the sun, earth and moon are exactly balanced. Astronomers think interstellar dust may collect there, causing scattering of light that can be photographed.

Other astronomers think the Moulton Point and a faint glow in the sky called Gegenschein may be one and the same. They hope Roosa's photographs can resolve the question.

Roosa is taking the photographs on the back side of the moon, the darkest point man has known. No sunlight is reflected off the command ship Kitty Hawk. No light is reflected from earth and there is no atmosphere to blur photographic images.

Roosa also is performing experiments designed to answer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 14 moonwalkers, ghostly figures probing the secrets of an alien land, walked the dusty surface of the moon today after a bull's-eye landing that was almost canceled because of a computer problem.

Both men climbed back into their lunar lander after nearly five hours out on the moon's surface where they conducted an array of scientific experiments.

Alan B. Shepard Jr., realizing a decade-old personal dream at age 47, became the fifth human to leave his imprint in the black lunar soil. He stepped from the Apollo 14 lunar lander at 9:54 a.m. EST.

Edgar D. Mitchell, 40, followed him down the ladder 10 minutes later.

"It's been a long way, but we're here," were Shepard's first words as his booted left foot tested the lunar soil in the Fra Mauro region. He described it as very soft, like talcum powder.

They were very business-like as they moved about their tasks, describing the landscape often in scientific terms. This contrasted with the exuberance, even the giddiness, shown at times by America's two previous moon landing crews.

They had been just as business-like during a tense descent to the surface hours earlier when they came within 10 minutes of aborting a landing. But experts on the ground worked furiously to trace a false computer signal. They radioed a solution to the astronauts—in effect, tell the computer not to listen to itself—and the mission was saved.

If the solution had not been found, the computer would automatically rocketed them back up to moon orbit when they tried to descend.

After landing, they encountered another problem that delayed their exit to the surface by an hour. Shepard had difficulty with his spacesuit communication system. The trouble was cleared up after it was traced to an out-of-position circuit breaker.

None of the problems posed any danger to the astronauts.

As Shepard and Mitchell moved about, setting up an atomic-powered science station, they were aided by a moon first—a two-wheel cart on which they carried their tools and instruments. Mitchell reported, "It rode very well."

Shepard remarked as he gazed at the surrounding landscape of high ridges, craters and boulders as large as 20 feet across.

"Nothing like being up to your armpits in lunar dust," Mitchell quipped.

Although main emphasis on the first walk was the science station, the astronauts gathered walnut-sized rocks and dust particles, scooping some up as soon as they hit the surface in case they had to leave the moon early for some reason. They also hammered a core tube a foot into the surface to gather soil samples.

BANK FISHING PROBLEM

Editor-The-Star: Now that the fishing season is almost here and like many others I have already bought my fishing license, the problem is we haven't a good place to bank fish. I know there is fishing at Millwood, but for the people who have to fish from the bank it isn't so good. The only place is in the river at the dam and there are so many there you can't find room to throw your line and then the boats come along and wash them on the bank again.

There is a good place to fish in the flooded place behind the Okay plant but there is no way to get to it only by boat. There are two roads to the lake but one is private and the other is a government road which is always locked. The private road is also locked. There have been lots of people complaining about the government gate locked. Looks like we would be allowed to use the road, which is a gravel road, to get to the lake as we paid the taxes to get it built and for what use if we can't fish in there?

The man who has the private road to the lake has cattle in there and won't let anyone use it. It is a good clean place to fish and the banks are flat and a nice place for children to fish.

If anyone feels as I do and know of anyway to help get the gate open I wish they would please help do so. I have talked to the game wardens and they say it should be opened but there is always someone higher up to see.

I hope everyone interested will get busy and do something where we will have a place to fish this summer.

questions about the composition of the moon's surface and trying to photograph the landing site of crewmates Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Edgar D. Mitchell and the craters created when the Apollo 12 lander and the Apollo 13 booster crashed into the moon.

Lunar mapping with cameras, performed on prior moon flights, is being continued, with attention to selecting future landing sites.

Some of the best photographs were expected to come while the command ship was in an egg-shaped orbit that carried it within 11.5 miles of the moon. These photographs are expected to allow scientists to pick out details as small as four feet across, the best resolution achieved yet in lunar photographs. In past flights, the command ship always remained in a circular orbit with the lowest point 60 miles above the moon.

Kitty Hawk remained in the low orbit until Shepard and Mitchell separated their lunar lander Antares. Then Roosa rocketed his craft into a circular orbit 69 miles high.

Another experiment conducted with the command ship in the lower orbit was to allow scientists tracking it with radar to better understand variations in the moon's gravity.

Flights by unmanned Lunar Orbiter spacecraft revealed that the moon's gravity field is not uniform. Concentrations of lunar material, called mascons, give some areas more pull than others.

The mascons have a greater effect on the orbit of a spacecraft 11.5 miles above the moon than one 60 miles above. Scientists hoped that by measuring the slight shifts in the command ship's course they would be able to make more precise measurements of the mascons' location and gravitational pull.

In another experiment, radio waves will be beamed to the lunar surface and the reflected waves measured on earth. Researchers hope this technique will become a valuable new tool for mapping the surface and detecting structures just under it, hidden from cameras.

sense of confusion and uncertainty that had spread through Congress—and to Americans accustomed to hourly news reports about the war—since the embargo was imposed.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, imposed the blackout, Ziegler said, to protect U.S. servicemen.

"The fact that there was no loss of lives in this operation in itself justifies the judgment of this commander," Ziegler declared.

First word of the embargo came Jan. 29 when newsmen in Saigon were told:

"All military operations in Region 1 are embargoed immediately except for those operations contained in the MACV (Military Assistance Command, Vietnam) release."

"The embargo will remain in effect until further notice and will be lifted as soon as military security permits. Your cooperation is solicited. This announcement constitutes part of the embargo and is not for publication."

The embargo on the embargo was an apparent attempt to head off speculative stories. But it had an almost reverse effect. Within a day, stories appeared in Washington and elsewhere saying a major operation was either under way or about to start.

Pentagon reporters were asked to observe the Saigon embargo.

Europe Has Oil Reserves for 6 Months

LONDON (AP)—The oil countries around the Persian Gulf may shut down their wells after Feb. 15 if they don't get a big price increase, but Western Europe's major countries have reserve stocks to last them two to six months, a survey today showed.

Austria, Belgium, Spain and Switzerland are in the best shape, with six months' supply. France has enough for four months, Britain for three, and West Germany for 2½ months.

The 10 nations of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, which supply 85 per cent of Western Europe's oil, warned Thursday at the end of a meeting in Tehran that unless the companies that buy their oil agree to price rises of around 36 cents a barrel in the next 10 days, they will adopt legislation imposing the increase.

The OPEC said its members will withhold their oil from the West if the companies hold out. If the flow of oil is cut, some governments will probably move quickly to conserve dwindling stocks by rationing of gasoline and fuel oil.

Industry spokesmen doubted whether enough oil would be available from other sources—Nigeria, the United States and Venezuela—to fill the gap a shutdown would cause. The Soviet Union has reduced its oil exports to the West because of increasing domestic needs.

Tornadoes, Snowstorms Hit Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A vicious winter storm hammered much of the eastern half of the nation with wind, rain, snow and ice today after triggering death-dealing tornadoes in parts of the South.

Eight persons were killed in twisters that churned into Alabama and Mississippi Thursday night. Seven, including six children, died at Grenada, Miss. One person died and 12 were injured at Bear Creek, Ala.

The tornadoes spun out of severe thunderstorms that hit a broad area from the Deep South to the Great Lakes.

High winds swirling around the storm tore down power lines in sections of Illinois and Indiana and heaped new-fallen snow into traffic-snaring drifts in Iowa and Wisconsin.

Heavy rains accompanying the storm brought flash-flood warnings in portions of Alabama, West Virginia, Indiana and Illinois. More than 2½ inches soaked Birmingham, Ala.

Freezing rain put traffic on skids along a wide sweep of the Eastern Seaboard from Virginia to New England.

Heavy snow blanketed an area from Kansas to Upper Michigan. Eight inches in central Kansas trapped children in school Thursday at Sterling and Alden until telephone maintenance trucks plowed through and took them to homes in the area for the night.

Icing of pavements closed many schools in Kansas and Missouri Thursday, and fallen power lines blacked out up to 6,000 homes in Kansas City suburbs.

Tornadoes also damaged farm buildings in the Joplin, Mo., area and blew down trees in southeastern Oklahoma.

Fog that halted or hampered airport operations for a time Thursday in Chicago, St. Louis, Atlanta and several other cities hung on in parts of the Southeast.

Arctic cold plunging into the midcontinent in the storm's wake was expected to drive temperatures to zero or below in portions of the Plains and Midwest by Saturday morning.

name troops were seen boarding helicopters at Dong Ha, about 5 miles east of Khe Sanh. They landed at Khe Sanh, then took off again in a westerly direction, toward Laos.

About 20,000 South Vietnamese troops are massed in the northwest corner of South Vietnam, poised for a massive thrust across the border if President Nixon orders it. President Nguyen Van Thieu reportedly has left the decision up to Nixon.

Reconnaissance always precedes a major ground thrust, and there are other indications that the South Vietnamese are making preparations to cross the border in strength.

Reports from the area said South Vietnamese engineers plan to improve Route 9, the highway into Laos, starting 150 feet from the border. U.S. Army engineers have just finished reconstructing the battered road up to that point.

Nine thousand U.S. troops are taking part in the big operation which has been named Deway Canyon II, but U.S. officials have said repeatedly no American ground troops will cross the border.

South Vietnamese headquarters denied again today that any of its forces had crossed into Laos. The Laotian Communist Pathet Lao Radio repeated charges that Saigon troops are "invading Laos in force."

No significant contact has been reported in the operation launched last Saturday to counter a North Vietnamese buildup which the U.S. Command said is threatening the northwestern part of South Vietnam.

Another 20,000 South Vietnamese are pushing into Cambodia west and northwest of Saigon to keep the North Vietnamese from moving back into the base areas U.S. and South Vietnamese forces drove them out of last May and June.

SAM's fired, but the radar was tracking the flight, thus posing an imminent threat.

Although South Vietnamese reconnaissance units of perhaps 150 to 200 men were reported moving into southern Laos, there was no evidence that Saigon troops have crossed the border in sizable numbers.

Associated Press correspondent William Barton reported from the border west of Khe Sanh that on Wednesday he saw about 20 UH1 troop-carrying helicopters cross the border into Laos. Such helicopters carry about eight soldiers each. And South Vietnamese sources said they were carrying South Vietnamese troops.

Barton said the helicopters appeared to be American.

A spokesman for the U.S. Command said no American helicopters had lifted any South Vietnamese troops into Laos although U.S. helicopters had carried South Vietnamese troops from Dong Ha to landing zones in the Khe Sanh area, near the Laotian border. The South Vietnamese air force also has a limited number of troop carrying helicopters.

ONE BEDROOM HOUSE

Plan No. 647305

This small one-bedroom house represents a practical minimum of both space and cost. It is intended primarily for a retired couple who do not wish to maintain a large house. This plan will also meet the needs of many individuals planning to build a small house for a second home on lake property in a resort area.

The plan incorporates a car shelter when built as an individual unit, or it may be used in a multi-unit arrangement.

Maximum use is made of the floor space which incorporates an L-shaped kitchen. Total floor space in the house is 528 square feet plus the optional car shelter of 288 square feet.

The generous three foot overhang protects the front walk and doorway. The plan specifies a concrete slab floor with perimeter insulation to reduce cost. Perimeter insulation will help maintain a warm floor. Conventional framing is used throughout the plan and includes maximum use of insulation for comfortable living.

If you need a plan, No. 647305, of this type, contact the Hempstead County Extension Office. Complete working drawings of this plan may be obtained free of charge.

HELEN HELP US!

ANOTHER LOOK AT POLLUTION PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: I seldom give one letter the whole column, but this one is too good to cut. Don't you agree?

I'm getting a little weary hearing all these instructions about what the common man and uncommon housewife should do to fight pollution. Why must the burden be all on US?

For example, a recent article tells individuals how to deal with ecology problems. Let's break it down and fight back:

1. Avoid water softeners as well as enzymes and purchase only low phosphate detergents.

Why doesn't government tell manufacturers: Stop producing pollution causers? Why must we try to decipher the fine print to see which detergent is most enzyme and phosphate-free? We probably couldn't understand it anyway.

At least, why doesn't government publish a public list of high and low pollutants. Is it afraid of industry? I know such lists are made—but they're not easily available.

2. By products that are packaged with as little material as necessary.

Now tell me, if a woman's family doesn't like oatmeal, which comes in a single pasteboard container, but likes some other well-wrapped and wax papered cereal, would she switch to oatmeal just because it has less wrapping?

And if oatmeal can get by with simple cardboard, why not the others?

3. Use plastic ice cream containers for storage of perishable goods.

After discarding all the paper, foil and plastic the goods are wrapped in when they come from the store, I presume.

4. Return egg cartons to the grocery store.

A good idea, but does the grocer want them? Doubtless some lobby representing the egg carton industry would object.

5. Bundle newspapers, separate and flatten aluminum cans, separate and break useless glass containers, and take this material to salvage shops.

How many towns have such salvage centers? How many people are going to maintain three garbage cans, do all that flattening and breaking, then tote all over the city, delivering junk to places that may have suddenly decided they no longer want it?

6. Insist on "white" paper.

As long as colored stationery, kitchen towels, toilet tissue, etc. is available, what woman will settle for uninteresting white?

7. Use unleaded gas.

I've read that the olefins and aromatic compounds which must be added to unleaded gas to achieve an acceptable octane, cause more air pollution than leaded gas. They also cause serious eye irritation.

Also, long ago, the gas companies told us leaded gas was more expensive "because they had to add lead." Then they remove the lead—and it gets more expensive yet. Who to believe?

It seems to me that if any real progress is to be made in the throwaway problem, changes must be made at the source. It does no good to put the "problem" items on the shelves and then tell people not to buy them. Manufacturers, packaging experts, food processors should find some way to satisfy consumers without adding unnecessarily to the waste.

If cars are the major source of air pollution, then "get the lead out" should be more than an advertising slogan—it must be a command.

Why put Boy Scouts to work dredging cans and bottles out of rivers when industry pours wastes by the ton into our waterways? We forego backyard burning, only to see smoke belching from company smokestacks.

Let's teach ourselves and our children ecology—fine! But we also need laws, applicable from the top to the bottom, not merely suggestions and guidelines. With babies, the best way to enforce a "No, no" is to remove it from reach. Adults too! Mrs. H.S., Texas.

Singing Is Andy's Sideline

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Andy Williams, inventor.

That sounds a little strange, but behind every man there lurks a secret dream. Andy Williams thinks of himself as an inventor.

Actually, he doesn't feel that he's right for the world of entertainment, despite his huge success with his NBC show.

"I don't have the ego drive of the people like Hope and Sinatra and Martin," he says. "If I hadn't been in it since childhood, I doubt if I'd have become an entertainer at all."

He thinks he might have gone into selling. But that dream—inventing—is always there, too. He says he invented some television shows, only he never showed them to anybody. One was, he says, like the old game show, Dream House, "only better."

But there are other, more orthodox, inventions. He has invented a cordless Christmas tree light, each bulb operating independently on its own battery. He actually built one and it works, but he never tried to do anything with it.

He has dreamed up a new system of keeping car windshield clear in the rain, without wipers. He'd take the car's own air pressure and direct the air against the windshield, thus blowing the raindrops away. He has never actually built this, but he's sure it would work.

At this point in his life, he

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There was Pearl Bailey, in borrowed hat and pants suit, in front of the Hollywood Palace, holding a microphone and under the impression she was shooting a promotion ad for her new television series. Up popped Ralph Edwards, clutching that big book and intoning, "Pearl Bailey, this is your life!"

Some things don't change, and "This Is Your Life," back after several years, is one of them. The series is now taped and syndicated instead of live and network. It does seem less emotional than in the old days when everybody wept.

Nobody in Pearl Mae's show shed a tear and Miss Bailey, in fact, coolly reminded some of her former employers exactly how little they paid her during the earlier years and even managed to slip in a plug for a forthcoming cookbook.

Edwards still used that awkward, fulsome form of narrative "And then, Pearl Bailey, with all your great talent and real affection for people, you opened at the Strand Theatre where your boss was..."

He filled the stage with people associated with the star—sisters, brother, husband and in-laws. Joe Louis, her agent, her accompanist's widow, a college president and Ethel Waters who read reverently a letter of greetings from President Nixon.

It seemed rather forced and well—corny. Maybe audiences are little more show-wise than they were when "This Is Your Life" started. Edwards is determined to keep the old format absolutely intact, even including the gift of the charm bracelet at the end. The half hour certainly is not everybody's cup of tea, but maybe Lawrence Welk fans will eat it up.

Robert Ironside is a relaxed, fun-loving and cool cop. Dan August is the tense, silent type. But in the new midseason lineup Dan follows Robert—on different networks. It's true—and they provide a nice couple of hours for detective story fans.

NBC's "Ironside" Thursday night started with a fascinating premise. A jockey was falling off his horse—the favorite—in a race then won by a longshot. There was some vivid photography around the track and the build up toward foul play was adroit. Unhappily the solution trailed off dismally.

ABC's "Dan August" was busy trying to find out why somebody was threatening the life of an elderly judge. Before he chased the clues down to a family plot, there were a number of killings and one whale of a fist fight with the villain in a putting shed. But this one, too, had a weak windup.

Andy Williams

You'd never know it from his supersuccess as a superstar, but this Williams brother would really rather be doing something else.

isn't afraid of letting people publish his inventions, even though they're not patented. He says he'll never do anything with them, anyway, they're just dream stuff. And, anyhow, he doesn't need the money.

That's one of the good things about this career he finds himself a success in—the money. It pours in, and he has fun pouring it back out again. He's able to indulge his love of sports.

There's the golf tournament he sponsors. And he owns a major chunk of the Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association. He says he'd like to buy a hockey team, too, and was willing to pay $3 million for the Oakland franchise, but it went for somewhere around $4 million.

He was also going to put up $1 million to back the Muhammad Ali-Joe Frazier fight with four others anteing up an equal amount, but then Los Angeles' big promoter Jack Kent Cooke put up the entire $5 million.

So you see Williams thinks big, and he can afford to think big because his TV show produces big. Williams works hard at his show and thinks about it all the time. At the moment, he's thinking about next season, and he says he's going to change it, make it more adult (they will probably give him a later time), give it a classier look.

Because of the work he puts in, he's tired. He is, therefore, planning a completely inactive summer—inactive professionally, that is.

"I'm not going to do anything," Andy says. "I'm going to Scotland and play golf. I want to see my friend Bill Dana in Hawaii for a few weeks. I may do one concert for Eurovision in Germany, but that's it."

"I've canceled four weeks in Vegas, a 10-city tour of Europe, a concert tour here. I feel the need of a real rest."

Finds Husband Works Hard

PAULO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Curious about her husband's job, Liane Butler went to work with him—on his rounds as a policeman driving a patrol car.

"I didn't realize he was working so hard," she said after a two-hour early morning ride with her husband William Butler.

It was part of a new Palo Alto program of allowing interested citizens to go along and see what policemen really do.

During the tour, Butler, 14 months on the force, assisted a mental patient from the Veterans Hospital, found a lost child and issued a traffic citation.

Local Teams Take Two Over Blevins

By RUSTY QUILLIN
Assistant Sports Writer

Last night in Jones Field House the Hope Ladycats and Blevins both took a game from the Blevins Hornets.

It was a fumbling start, for almost 1 minute neither team could hold on to the ball but finally Dee Singleton of the Ladycats hit from the corner to start the scoring. Shortly after, Kidd of Blevins worked in for 2 points and also a free shot, so the Hornets had taken a 3-2 lead. But too much fumbling prevented either team from scoring much and the 1st quarter ended with Blevins leading 11-8.

With 10 seconds gone from the second quarter Betty Rodden of Hope hit on a long jump shot but those 2 points were matched by Sue Rodgers of Blevins who hit from the top of the key.

With sharp shooting from Dee Singleton Hope was able to slip in a few points before the half ended. At the half way mark Hope just trailed by 2 with Blevins leading 22-20.

Janet McCain of Hope hit quick after the intermission of half on a layup and with 2 more points from Belinda East Hope had captured the lead for the first time of the night. After exchanging points with one another the 3rd period ended with Hope on top by 2.

The final period was all the Ladycats for they were as hot as a firecracker. Dee Singleton and Janet McCain hit on many occasions while Blevins had one girl which did all their scoring for them the entire second half. With 59 seconds left Bonnie Willis put in the last 2 points to compliment Hope's lead. The score ended, Hope Ladycats 41, Blevins Hornets 38.

Leading scorer for Blevins was Cathy Montgomery with 28 points while Dee Singleton led Hope with 22.

In the final game Danny Joyce of Hope popped in 4 quick points from the outside to show everyone how it is done and with a long jump shot from Buddy Ingram, Hope had jumped out to a 6-0 lead. Blevins finally got on the scoreboard when Miller hit from the top of the key. Aided with 2 more points from Rodger Newton Hope had a 15-6 lead at the end of the 1st quarter.

Buddy Ingram started off the 2nd period for Hope with a layup and added with a charity shot from Bill Rowland the B-Bruins were really building up their lead. But Washington and Mike Morton hit on a few occasions for the Hornets and the 2nd period ended Hope 30, Blevins 17.

White hit on a charity shot to start things the last half for Blevins and Ernie Morton, a teammate helped out with 2 points. But the defense of the B-Bruins was too much and they quickly put down this up rising. Final score Hope 48, Blevins 35.

Hope's leading scorer was Danny Joyce with 15 points, Blevins had Washington backing them up with 13 big ones.

U.S. Drivers Holding More Racing Spots

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With Ramo Stott and ageless Iggy Katona already holding the front row spots, Auto Racing Club of America drivers held more qualifying runs today for spots in their $30,025 ARCA 300 race Sunday.

Stott, winner of last year's event and the defending ARCA seasonal champ, won the pole position in first day qualifying Thursday, posting a speed of 180.982 m.p.h. in a Dodge.

Katona, at 55 one of the oldest active drivers in auto racing, was just a shade slower at 180.546 to win the other front row berth.

Ten positions were filled Thursday and 10 more were available today. The final 20 cars in the starting field of 40 will be selected Saturday.

Bobcats Play Host to Malvern

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Tonight, the Bobcats and Bobkittens host the Malvern Leopards in the tough district competition.

Hope owns a 3-1 district record while Malvern is winless in four district attempts. The Bobcats are 13-6 overall.

John Dudley has picked off over 200 rebounds for the Cats, while Parker Powell and Steve Harris still are averaging over 80 per cent from the free throw line. Dudley is the leading scorer for the AAA West race with 102 points, in four games, for a 25.5 point per game average in district play.

Hope is still stinging from that big loss to Camden last week, and I don't think it will happen again. Surely not tonight.

Triple O.T. in Little League Basketball

The Junior Olympic Basketball games last Saturday morning were exciting for players and spectators alike with each of the eight teams scoring unusually high points. All teams have displayed remarkable improvement since they began play four weeks ago.

In the first game Tate Motor eased by Hope Builders Supply 21 to 17 to maintain their undefeated record. Dickie Harris led Tate Motor with 8 points, followed by Haney with 6, Smith with 4 and Rowland with 3. Gary Sinyard was high for the losers with 9 points while Lindsey got 6 and Cox 2.

In the 10:00 o'clock game Herbert B Burns squeezed by Sherwin-Williams 16-11. Jim Stuart was high man for Herbert Burns with 9 points while Cagle, Sisson, and Morgan each shot 2, and Love rounded out the scoring with one point. Brad Joyce led Sherwin-Williams with 6 points followed by Rowe with 3 and Williams with 2 points.

In the third game which went into triple overtime, Crescent Drug barely got by Moore Bros. by the score of 29-28. Top gunners for Crescent Drug Store were Bobby Frazier with 14 and Charles Harris with 10, while Stroud had 4 and Nelson 3. Moore Bros. also had two high scorers in Doug Wilson who had 13 and David Cobb with 10. Woods and Shepard rounded out the points with 3 and 2 respectively.

In the last game of the day, Western Auto continued their winning ways by downing J. A. West Co. 25 to 16. Elvin Davis led Western Auto with 10 points while Alvin Davis had 6, Billings 4, Henley 3, and East 2. Johnny Vickers was high for West's with 6, followed by Steve Gough with 4, Williams with 3, Hollis 2 and Huddleston one.

League standings after four complete games:

Wins	Losses
Western Auto	4 0
Tate Motor	4 0
Crescent Drugs	3 1
Hope Builders Supply	2 2
Herbert Burns	2 2
J. A. West Co.	1 3
Sherwin-Williams	0 4
Moore Bros.	0 4

Saturday's games, which will be played at Jones Field House, are as follows:

Kittycats Keep Right on Winning

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Those Kittycats just keep rolling along, don't they.

After taking a 21-1 lead, early in the second period, the Kittycats coasted on in to a 37-27 pounding over the outmanned Gurdon Go-Devis, to raise their record to a 14-5 mark.

Hope actually did much better than the score indicated, using all of the reserves in the second half.

Gigi Gladney and Corny Coleman started Hope off on the right foot with quick baskets, and after three more free throws, and a layup by Coleman the Kittycats held a 9-0 lead.

After Gladney hit the last two points of the quarter, with 10 seconds left, Hope held a 17-1 margin.

Immediately following the tipoff Gladney and Coleman hit two field goals for a 21-1, Hope lead, and the bench began to unload.

With 3:29 left in the first half, Gail East came in to sink a free throw and shortly afterwards came back with two field goals to give Hope a 26-3 margin at halftime.

The first half later ended after Pogo Griffin layed up two points for a 26-5 margin.

For the first four minutes of the third quarter, the ball did not go through the net for either team, until East hit a two pointer from the free throw line with 2:49 left in the period.

Unable to score again that period, the third quarter ended with Hope leading, 30-14, after allowing Gurdon nine points, with the reserves playing all the way.

Starting the last quarter off, Sharon Killingsworth hit four quick points for the Go-Devis to pull Gurdon to within 12 points.

However, five straight points by Griffin pushed Hopes' lead back out to 35-20, and after Gladney briefly came back in for the last two free shots, the scoring ended.

Gladney had 14 points, followed by Coleman with nine, and East and Griffin hitting seven each.

Much of the credit must be given to the starting defensive three, of Carol Frazier, Sharon Ratliff, and Mona Rowe, with Cindy Whitaker, Patsy Burch, Denise Lauterback, and Jeannie Kramer also seeing a lot of action.

Also after Coleman, Gladney, and Jill Herring had built up a sizeable lead in the second period, East, Griffin, and Tullis, came in to do a fine job also.

In the second game, the eighth grade Hope team played a good game against the Gurdon mainstringers, but bowed in a 50-30 decision.

Neither team could score for the first few minutes until Gurdon starting hitting.

After Hope's Ricky Trotter and Eugene Tyree hit baskets, the Kittens trailed, 9-4. The first quarter ended with the Go-Devis in a 13-7 lead.

Only Trotter and Tyree could hit a basket each as the first half ended with Gurdon holding a sizeable 27-11 margin.

Tyree, Trotter, and Marshall Scott hit points early in the second half, and after Jim Rhodes popped the net with 2:21 left in the period, Hope trailed, 31-15.

With Tyree and Rhodes hitting the last goals of the quarter, Hope trailed, 35-19, moving into the last quarter.

Playing the last quarter about even, the Kittens hit 11 points while Gurdon added to the large lead.

Trotter hit 11 points, while Tyree sacked nine, and Rhodes sank six.

Gamecocks' Roche Scores 56 Points

By TOM EMORY
Associated Press Sports Writer

No floppy hair or floppy socks were in sight Thursday night when South Carolina's John Roche went on a scoring binge which left him holding a new single-game scoring total by an Atlantic Coast Conference player.

Roche's 56 points led the seventh-ranked Gamecocks to a 118-83 victory over Furman. He hit 21-of-34 field goals and 14-of-15 free throws in breaking the 16-year-old record of 55 points set by Ron Shavlik of North Carolina State against William and Mary.

The victory gives South Carolina a 12-4 record. The team has suffered some embarrassing defeats this season at the hands of ACC rivals North Carolina, Maryland, Duke and Virginia. The losses plummeted the Gamecocks from the No. 2 slot in The Associated Press Top Ten.

Jacksonville, ranked sixth, pushed its season mark to 14-2 with a 102-83 victory over South Alabama. Artis Gilmore and Harold Fox led the attack with the 6-foot-2 Fox outshooting the 7-foot-2 Gilmore, 26 points to 25. Gilmore, the nation's top rebounder, added 17 to his total but South Alabama's 6-foot-8 Wally Prescott gave him a battle and got 13 of his own.

Two other ranked teams, North Carolina, No. 16, and Houston, No. 18, also were in action.

The Tar Heels had little trouble disposing of Wake Forest, 93-75, in an ACC game. George Karl and Dennis Wuycik each scored 22 points. It was conference-leading North Carolina's first victory over the Deacons since 1969.

Although UNC built up as much as a 17-point margin during the second half, Wake Forest's Charlie Davis gave the Tar Heels a scare when he cut their lead to seven with eight straight points. Davis finished the contest with 33 points.

Houston struggled to a 81-75 victory over Long Island University in the second game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. The winners shot a heady 65 per cent from the floor but trailed 40-39 at the half.

Steve Newsome bailed his team out with 15 of his 18 points in the second half. Dwight Davis was top for Houston with 21 points but Ron Williams of LIU led all scorers with 29 points.

In the other Garden game, Brian Mahoney sank three foul shots with little time remaining in the game to give Manhattan a 77-73 victory over New York University.

In other action, Memphis State staged a two-minute rally for a 73-72 victory over Drake in a Missouri Valley Conference game. Jeff Halliburton of Drake led all scoring with 25 points while James Douglas was high for Memphis State with 18.

Long Beach State grabbed a 43-20 halftime lead then coasted to a 74-56 victory over Centenary. George Trapp hit for 28 points including 21 in the first half for the 49ers. St. Louis University stomped North Texas State 88-58, in a MVC game; Rutgers fast-broke Boston U. for an 82-51 victory and The Citadel ran away from VMI 91-65.

Gene Phillips Leading SWC in Scoring

DALLAS (AP) — Gene Phillips is rapidly becoming the runaway Southwest Conference basketball scoring leader.

The high-scoring Southern Methodist Mustang is averaging 28.2 points per game. William Chatmon of Baylor is next with a 23.9 average. Phillips, who has won the scoring title two consecutive years, has a career total of 1,673 points. He needs 81 in the Mustangs' final nine games to better the mark of 1,753 set by the late Jim Krebs of Southern Methodist in 1955-57.

The 6-foot-4 senior needs only 167 points to beat the SWC-only mark of 1,007 set by John Beasley of Texas A&M in 1962-64.

In other individual categories, Pat Fees of Baylor leads in field goal percentage with 62.2; Grey Lowery of Texas Tech is the best in free throw shooting with an 86.1 percentage; and Eugene Kennedy of Texas Christian has the rebounding lead with 15.4

Now . . . the Diamond Can-Can

THE LOS ANGELES DODGERS certainly can can-can. This was just a stretching exercise during winter training at Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles. After the high-stepping, all the fellows then went and ran-ran.

Matson Uses Indoor Shot, Saves $300

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Fort Worth Coaches Indoor Games get underway tonight and officials are already $300 richer thanks to a decision made by world record holder shot put king Randy Matson. "I bet the coaches will be glad to hear I'm using an indoor shot," Matson chuckled. "I haven't picked up an outdoor shot this year."

Matson has used an outdoor shot in the past and it punches holes in the center track where sprinters and hurdlers run. Repair costs usually run about $300.

Matson said the indoor shot is "bigger and softer." The Pampa, Tex., native and former star at Texas A&M continues his head-on duel with Al Feuerbach, an Iowa now living in Los Angeles.

Matson defeated Feuerbach at Albuquerque last weekend. Another feature event of the two-night card is the 60-yard dash featuring the Mills brothers of Texas A&M—Marvin and Curtis—and the Pouncy twins of Southern Methodist—Gene and Joe.

Both the Mills boys have unofficially tied the world indoor mark of 5.9 in workouts. Dick Fosbury, Olympic high jump champion, also is scheduled to make an appearance. TORONTO (AP) — Debbie Brill, 17-year-old sensation from Haney, B.C., should feel at home when she competes tonight in the Telegram-Maple Leaf Indoor Games, hoping to equal the world record in the high jump.

For it was at last year's Games here that she became the first North American woman to jump six feet. Since then, the lanky brunette has cleared six feet on seven different occasions.

Struggling New York got past Detroit when Rod Gilbert scored early in the second period. Detroit's Gordie Howe also put the puck in the net but the goal was disallowed because a whistle had blown.

Buffalo rang up its third straight and ninth in the last 10 games as Eddie Shack scored three goals and rookie Gil Perreault notched his 27th of the season. Ross Lonsberry scored both Los Angeles goals.

An oddity will see Rocky Thompson, top draft pick of the New York Giants of the National Football League, competing in the sprints.

A highlight should be the mile event which will match Polish star Henry Szordykowski and Chuck Labenz of Los Angeles. The pole vault will feature Bob Seagren of Los Angeles.

Two U.S. high jumpers are Tim Heikkila of the University of Minnesota, who has cleared 7-1, and Mike Bowers of Ann Arbor, Mich., with 7-1 3/4.

Among the European athletes will be Joseph Plachy of Czechoslovakia, an 800 meters entrant. His chief competition will come from Tom Von Ruden of the United States.

Flyers Get a Kick From Black Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Chicago Black Hawks, who have gotten lots of kicks from playing Philadelphia, finally gave the Flyers a kick.

Chicago defenseman Pat Stapleton accidentally kicked the puck into his own net in the second period to give Philadelphia a 2-1 lead, and the Flyers went on to a 6-2 National Hockey League victory Thursday night.

It was only the second victory for the Flyers in 21 games in four seasons against the Black Hawks and the first since February, 1968. Chicago had won 13 and there have been six ties.

In the only other NHL action, New York edged Detroit 1-0 and Buffalo beat Los Angeles 5-2.

Philadelphia built a 5-1 lead with three second-period goals and then made it 6-1 by converting its first shot on goal in the third period when Serge Bernier deflected Ed Van Impe's shot into the net. Dennis Hull scored both Chicago goals.

Struggling New York got past Detroit when Rod Gilbert scored early in the second period. Detroit's Gordie Howe also put the puck in the net but the goal was disallowed because a whistle had blown.

Buffalo rang up its third straight and ninth in the last 10 games as Eddie Shack scored three goals and rookie Gil Perreault notched his 27th of the season. Ross Lonsberry scored both Los Angeles goals.

Publisher Convicted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal court has convicted Marvin Miller, one of the nation's largest publishers of erotic books and magazines, on 15 counts of mailing obscene material.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge William Gryk ruled Miller guilty Wednesday following a two-day nonjury trial and scheduled sentencing Feb. 22.

Miller, 42, of suburban Covina, previously was convicted on eight counts of violating federal obscenity laws. The U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the five-year sentence.

Miller does a $10 million annual volume in sex-oriented books, magazines and films. By his own count he has been arrested more than 30 times in the last four years.

Canada in Rough Time Economically

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's economy is going through a rough time, too.

Unemployment, at the highest level since 1960, is expected to go higher before predicted improvement in the spring.

Growth in national production is the lowest rate in a decade.

Many economic analysts say 1971 will find a continued lack of confidence both on the part of potential investors and on the part of consumers.

With 1 out of 12 jobs in some areas, unemployment has replaced inflation as the country's No. 1 economic problem.

It also has become the hottest political issue facing Pierre Elliott Trudeau's government. Although the next election is not expected before 1972, the prime minister's opponents are making the most of the situation.

The jump in unemployment tends to overshadow some positive factors in the economy. One is a slowdown in inflation.

In December the cost of living index rose only 1½ per cent over the figure for the same month in 1969. That was the lowest 12-month rate of change since 1964.

"Inflation no longer exists in Canada," Trudeau said, asserting his government's fight on it was unequalled in the Western world.

Not everybody accepted his claim of conquest, but most agreed that Trudeau's austerity program had contributed to unemployment. The prime minister acknowledged in advance that increased unemployment would be part of the price for curbing inflation.

There is a substantial amount of skepticism regarding government forecasts of an economic upturn in the second six months of this year.

One puzzle was why a boom in exports didn't prevent a slump in unemployment. The answer apparently is that many of the major exports were not big producers of jobs.

Although the growth rate in new jobs was one-third higher than in the United States and higher than in any European country, it was not enough to meet the demand.

Opening lead—♥ 10

A letter from Janesville, Wisconsin reads in part: "Playing at four spades I had no way to avoid the loss of one trick in each suit. West opened the 10 of hearts. I played low from dummy. East took his king and returned a club to his partner's ace. I know that if West held the king of hearts I would have made my contract, but I had nine high-card points for my one-spade response and would expect to have a sure thing after my partner's jump to four spades. Didn't he overbid?"

The answer to our correspondent is that North's jump to four spades was a mild overbid. Three spades would have been a better call. But even then South should have gone on to the spade game, so we can't really fault North.

We have to blame South a trifle. He really should have made the four-spade contract after the heart opening and club return. It looks as if he must lose a diamond trick in addition to a trump but that is an optical illusion.

The winning line of play is to start by cashing dummy's ace of hearts, queen of clubs and ace of spades. Then he should lead a spade to his king and cash his good heart and club in order to discard two diamonds from dummy. Then he plays out dummy's two high diamonds and a third round of trumps.

It turns out that West has the last trump and finds himself on lead. Should West hold the last diamond he could lead it, but he doesn't. Actually, West holds the two hearts and must lead one. South trumps in either hand while discarding a diamond from the other and the diamond loser has vanished.

HIS CAUSE is himself. Pooran Singh is a 50-year-old carpenter from Calcutta who has carried his grievances against the Indian government on his back for more than a decade. His tools and clothes were stolen in 1959 and he has carried a petition on his shirt ever since.

Frenchman Has Chance to Be New Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Frenchman has a good chance of becoming the first non-Italian Pope in 4½ centuries. Soundings among Vatican officials and observers show that as things stand now Jean Marie Cardinal Villot is considered the man most likely to succeed Pope Paul VI on his retirement or death.

The cardinal, 65, is tall and robust. He has a reputation for being candid, punctual and open-minded.

Cardinal Villot holds down the Vatican's No. 1 and No. 2 posts under the Pope: secretary of state and chamberlain of the Church. In the first post, he acts as the Roman Catholic Church's "prime minister" and principal collaborator with Pope Paul. In the second, he has responsibility for administering Vatican property and also would have the duty of ruling the Church from the death of the Pope until a successor is chosen.

As recurrent rumors in Vatican circles have it, the present pontiff is thinking of retiring when he reaches age 75, just 20 months from now. Michele Cardinal Pellegrino, archbishop of Turin and a friend of Pope Paul, suggested in late November that speculation about a papal retirement should not be taken lightly.

Others besides Cardinal Villot thought to be "papabili"—in consideration for Pope—are two fellow French cardinals, Gabriel Garrone, head of the Vatican Congregation for Education, and Francois Marty, archbishop of Paris and head of the French conference of bishops. Two Italian prospects are Antonio Cardinal Poma, archbishop of Bologna and head of the Italian bishops conference, and Cardinal Pellegrino himself.

The last non-Italian Pope was Adrian VI, a Dutchman who held the office in 1522-23.

Before the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council, a non-Italian Pope was virtually unthinkable. Now the Roman Curia, or central Vatican governing body, is greatly "internationalized," so Cardinal Villot and the other French prospects stand a much better chance.

Even as late as April 1969 the old anti foreigner feelings were rife in Curia. Stiff opposition met Pope Paul's appointment of Cardinal Villot to succeed Amleto Cardinal Cicognani as secretary of state.

The energetic, hard-working Cardinal Villot won over his curial collaborators. They have now adopted him as one of their own.

When called to be secretary of state, the cardinal said he would be primarily concerned with performing his duties "in a filial dependence" on the Pope, and with "absolute fidelity toward his person, his ruling and his action."

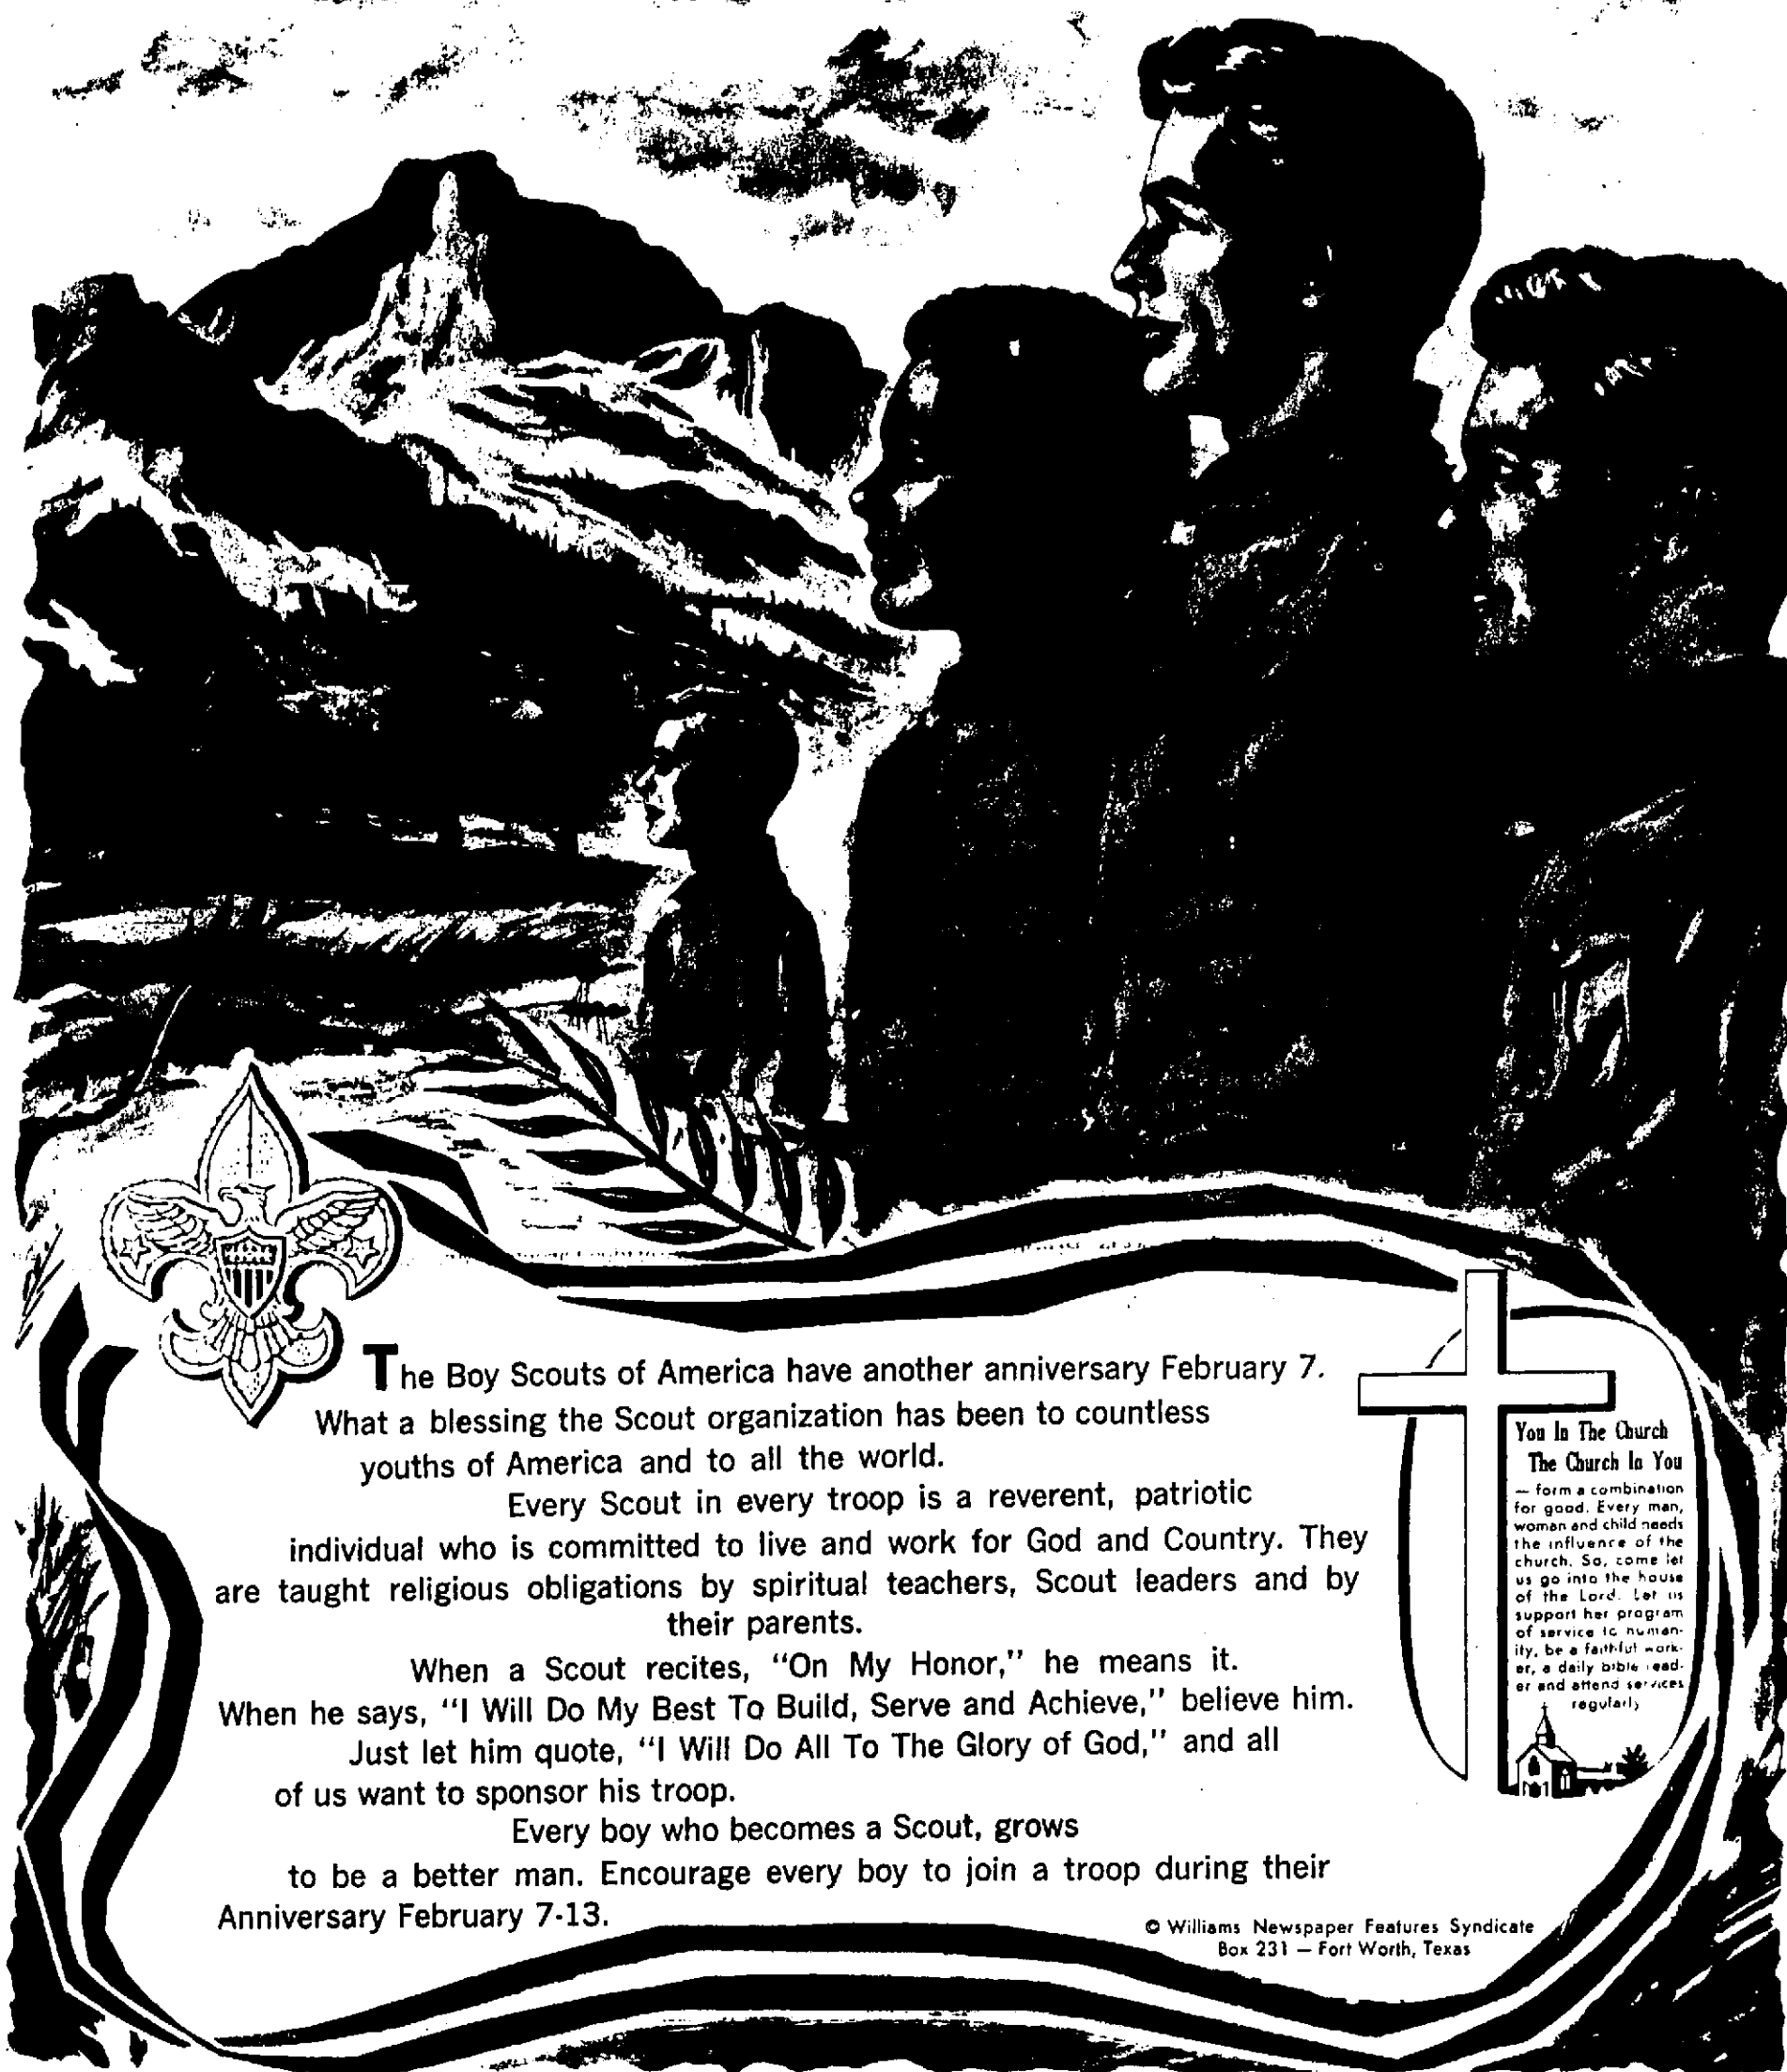

But as prime counselor to Pope Paul, the French cardinal serves as anything but a rubber stamp. His subordinates report he always says what he has on his mind.

Whether Cardinal Villot differs with Pope Paul such things as the ban on artificial birth

The Boy Scouts of America have another anniversary February 7. What a blessing the Scout organization has been to countless youths of America and to all the world.

Every Scout in every troop is a reverent, patriotic individual who is committed to live and work for God and Country. They are taught religious obligations by spiritual teachers, Scout leaders and by their parents.

When a Scout recites, "On My Honor," he means it. When he says, "I Will Do My Best To Build, Serve and Achieve," believe him. Just let him quote, "I Will Do All To The Glory of God," and all of us want to sponsor his troop.

Every boy who becomes a Scout, grows to be a better man. Encourage every boy to join a troop during their Anniversary February 7-13.

Seminole Handicap Wide Open

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two words for the Seminole Handicap would seem to be "wide open," with a field of 12 in prospect for the $50,000-added stepping stone to the $100,000 Widener Handicap Feb. 20.

With Pelican Stable's Al Hat-tab out with an injured foot, high weight of 119 pounds for the 1 1/4-mile Seminole at Hialeah goes to Saul Nadler's 4-year-old Judgale.

Carrying one less pound will be Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gary's Corn off the Cob, last year's Arlington Classic winner.

Other probabilities are Jack Dreyfus' Never Bow, 116, winner of the 1970 Widener; Thomas F. Fleming Jr.'s, Needless N Pens, 116, and William A. Levine's Up II, 116.

Two other $50,000-added races on tap Saturday are the 1 1/8-mile San Pasqual Handicap at Santa Anita and the 1 1/4-mile Quaker Handicap at Liberty Bell.

Forked Lightning Ranch's Ack Ack, top-weighted at 129 pounds; and Frank McMahon's Jungle Savage, 120, are among eight probabilities for the San Pasqual.

Ad Majora, Briardale Farm's 5-year-old gelding who is unbeaten in five starts at the current Liberty Bell meeting, was one of nine entered Friday for the Quaker.

A likely field of eight 3-year-old fillies will contest the six-furlong, $25,000-added Flirtation Stakes at Pimlico.

They include Larking Hill Farm's At Arms Length, the Heirloom Handicap winner at Liberty Bell, and John L. Argo's Movette, winner of the New Hope Stakes.

Other national features include the six-furlong, $10,000-added Thelma Stakes for 3-year-old fillies at the New Orleans Fair Grounds, and the 7 1/2-furlong, $7,500 Cranston Handicap at Lincoln Downs.

Moment Was Sad One for Hockey Player

DETROIT (AP) — Bruce MacGregor walked almost unnoticed out the side door of Olympia Stadium, past flocks of hockey fans jammed outside the Detroit dressing room seeking autographs of their favorite Red Wings.

Arm and arm with his wife Audrey they walked slowly on the icy pavement towards the dark, slush-filled parking lot.

It was a somewhat sad moment for anyone aware of its meaning.

Bruce MacGregor was going home to Windsor, Ont., across the Detroit River as he had done more than 300 times before during his 11 years in the National Hockey League — all with the Red Wings.

But he was not going home as a Red Wing.

Suddenly he was a New York Ranger who only moments earlier was stickhandling past his former teammates and doing his best to harass them in a 1-0 victory.

On the ice he was wearing a blue and red uniform instead of a red and white one.

Afterwards he showered in the uncarpeted, small dressing room, two rest rooms and an office away from the large, carpeted room where he showered a few days before.

"I felt very strange," he muttered, buttoning his pale orange shirt. "I was very nervous on the ice ... My stomach was in my throat for a while."

Thinks Plan Fairest of Tax Systems

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers offered the state legislature Thursday a $26 million tax package that he said would give Arkansas one of the fairest tax systems in the United States.

The major proposal among his seven tax measures is a more graduated income tax that the governor said would produce about $15 million in additional revenues annually.

Also among the proposals presented to a joint session of the legislature were repeal of some sales and use tax exemptions, including the exemption granted sales of cigarettes, and extension of the sales tax to repair services.

Education would receive the bulk of the new money. Bumpers outlined proposed spending for education that included a $900 increase in teacher salaries in the next biennium and a $11.5 million construction program for the state-supported colleges and universities.

The governor also proposed a 20 per cent increase in aid to cities and counties, an ambitious development program for the state parks, a pay increase for state employees and a stronger parole system.

Bumpers said his tax package was "the barest minimum amount necessary" to fund the programs he proposes.

He said his income tax bill was designed to bring fairness to the overall tax structure. He said the impact of the tax rate change, placing a greater tax responsibility on upper level income groups, would not be that great because taxpayers may charge off their state tax payments on their federal income tax returns.

Bumpers said the federal government, through the tax credits, actually would bear more than $6 million of the $15 million.

The governor did not propose an increase for families with less than $3,000 of taxable income. He said a man with a wife and two children making $12,000 a year would have about $10,000 in taxable income and his tax bill would be increased $35 a year.

The other tax measures proposed by Bumpers and their estimated annual yield:

—Removal of the sales and use tax exemption granted utilities, pipelines and common carriers, $2.5 million.

—Repeal of the sales tax exemption on cigarettes, $2.25 million.

—Removal of the sales tax exemption on sales of second-hand or used property, such as automobiles, $3 million.

—Extension of the 3 per cent sales tax to include repair services such as those on motor vehicles, planes, farm machinery and implements, motors of all kinds, appliances, furniture, television sets and radios, office machines and equipment, shoes, jewelry, watches and clocks, $2.2 million.

—A reduction from 2 to 1 per cent in the merchants' discount for collecting the sales tax, $1 million.

The seventh proposal actually was a reduction in a tax — a lowering of the real estate transfer tax from $3 per $1,000 of value to $1.10 per $1,000. Bumpers said that despite the change the tax would produce about $500,000 in general revenues.

The income tax bill will require a three-fourths majority vote of both houses of the legislature for passage, but the other proposals will require only a simple majority.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee agreed to a Bumpers request to sponsor the measures as a procedural matter, although no committee member bound himself to support them.

Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock, the committee chairman, said he would arrange to start hearings on the bills next week.

The governor said he had been urged to either present no revenue proposals or wait and call a special session later "when the tax mood might be more favorable."

"The first would be highly desirable and politically expedient," he said. "The second would postpone the inevitable and put us all to the expense and inconvenience of a special session."

"Either would constitute a breach of faith with the people who expect me to be completely candid in my assessment of conditions and would violate my conscience and constitute an abdication of my responsibility in the face of compelling truths."

Bumpers said his proposals were based on what he believed to be "the most progressive reform revenue measures presented to the assembly in many years." He said he was not asking for a lot more than he would expect to get.

Bumpers detailed to the legislators how he proposed that the new tax revenues and natural growth revenues be spent.

He proposed giving teachers an average salary increase of $400 during the fiscal year beginning July 1 and an additional $500 increase in the following fiscal year, bringing teacher pay to the level of salaries in surrounding states.

He recommended $11.5 million in the next fiscal year to finance classroom and other construction projects suggested by the Commission on Coordination of Higher Educational Finance. In addition, Bumpers said he would ask colleges and universities to increase tuition $50 a semester, providing an additional $4 million.

The governor proposed that the state-supported colleges and universities be given from growth money and new tax revenues $6 million in the first fiscal year of the coming biennium and $9 million in the second year.

Bumpers said the allocations would provide the funds to staff the family practice division of the University of Arkansas Medical Center, open 10 of 120 empty beds at the center and provide scholarships for medical students who agree to practice in rural areas after graduation.

He said the colleges and universities will have from balances on hand this year $1.6 million for construction authorized by the March 1970 special legislative session.

Bumpers also proposed paying a deficit at financially troubled Arkansas AM&N College from balances on hand. The amount is expected to be between $1.5 million and $1.8 million, he said.

The governor said "common decency" required the state to raise welfare grants at least $5 a month in each of the next two years.

He proposed a one-step increase in state employee salaries that he said would cost $1.1 million in the next fiscal year and $2.3 million in the following fiscal year. He said Arkansas' state employees were the lowest paid in the nation.

Bumpers recommended an additional $2 million from general revenues in each year of the biennium for cities and counties. He also said he hoped the legislature would enact his bill that would give the municipalities more flexibility in raising revenue for themselves.

The governor recommended that the state provide about $800,000 in each of the next two years for operating funds for the parks system. This would free cash receipts that could be used to fund a $9 million bond issue that would generate another $6 to $9 million in federal funds, Bumpers said.

Virginians Finally Win a Long One

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was easy for the Virginia Squires once they got the knack — five periods after the start of the American Basketball Association game against the Floridians.

The Floridians' Ira Harge sent the game into overtime at 110-110 Thursday night with a basket just three seconds from the end of regulation time. And Mike Barrett of the Squires sent the game into another overtime, 123-123, with a goal at the buzzer.

The Virginians ripped off nine straight points and went on to a 138-129 victory. Barrett and Neil Johnson scored 25 points each for the Squires. Larry Jones hit for 38 and Mack Calvin for 30 for the Floridians.

Kentucky beat the New York Nets 106-99 in the only other ABA game. Pittsburgh and Indiana were to play before the Kentucky-Nets contest in Louisville but the game was postponed when Indiana encountered traveling difficulties.

In the only National Basketball Association action, San Francisco outdueled Phoenix 117-105 and Portland beat Atlanta 137-123.

Kentucky jumped to a 15-point halftime lead and coasted past the Nets as Dan Issel scored 25 points. Rick Barry got 25 for New York.

Nate Thurmond, scoring 11 of his game-leading 30 points, led San Francisco's hot third quarter in which the Warriors shot 59 per cent from the field.

Phoenix rallied briefly midway through the fourth period but came no closer than eight points, with two minutes remaining. Connie Hawkins led the losers with 26 points.

RY ON RECORD—Checking in with another Youth Beat fearless prediction for '71, we'll tab Ry Cooder as one of the first superstars of the new decade. You may think you don't have a Ry Cooder record in your collection, but if you've got discs by the Rolling Stones, the Everly Brothers, Paul Revere and the Raiders, Arlo Guthrie, Gordon Lightfoot, Taj Mahal, Randy Newman, Captain Beefheart, Jackie De Shannon, Van Dyke Parks or Harpers Bizarre, you've heard Ry on guitar, since he's done the studio stuff for all of them. Ry's first solo LP is out now on Reprise and it shows off the blues-oriented guitarist at his finest. Pick up on this one for sure.

GETTING INVOLVED—Youth Beat salutes 13-year-old Linda Bickle of Lincoln, Neb., who took the time to get involved and by so doing saved the lives of a family of five. Linda was delivering newspapers when she saw smoke coming from the windows of a home. After calling the fire department, she went back to the blazing home in time to wake the family and help them escape. For her heroics, Linda received the Junior Fire Marshal Gold Medal at the recent convention of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, and we'd like to augment the honor by naming Linda the latest winner in the NEA-Caraville Project Take Time to Get Involved Contest. A Caraville watch for Linda is on the way.

GETTING HOTTER—Just when we were ready to give in to the heat and the heat had pants have come to the rescue. They seem to be nothing more than what used to be called short shorts, but they're very hot, and that's what counts. We asked you to give us your opinion on the longer lengths when they came out, which you didn't do them, and we ask you to do the same with the pants. Like, eh? Hate 'em? Chicker? Let us hear from you in one of the papers. Your comments will be reprinted and we'll send along a little something if we use them.

ROCK POAST—You'll recall that a few weeks ago we asked you to give us a name for our proposed rock restaurant. We had Sly and the Family Stone Trabs and things like that on the menu and the mail has been rolling in. Carol Long of Knoxville, Tenn., suggests The Gula Stream (serving food for thought). Got a better name? If we print out suggestion we'll send you a dandy something or other, which is just what we're going to do for Carol.
